Word From The Pastor

In November we will have a special collection that is taken up every three years. It is the National Collection for the Archdiocese for the Military Services, USA.

Established by St. John Paul II in 1985, the Archdiocese for the Military Services is responsible for providing pastoral ministries to those serving in the United States Armed Services around the world, those enrolled in U.S. Military Academies, those undergoing treatment at any of the 153 Department of Veteran Affairs medical Centers, those working in civilian jobs for the federal government beyond U.S. borders, and for their families.

Archbishop Broglio writes: I am grateful to the U.S. Conference of Bishops for its approval of this national collection. I am grateful to the U.S. Conference of Bishops for its approval of this national collection. Funds received from the 2013 and 2016 collections provided the means necessary for this Archdiocese to continue to provide the same pastoral care readily available to the almost 1.8 million AMS faithful spread across the globe who serve and who face constant transition and uncertainty. The funds also made possible several new and important initiatives, including the first ever Catholic military marriage enrichment retreat and widespread certification of catechists at their installations.

While military chapels and other facilities, as well as chaplain salaries, are paid by the government, administration, programs and services are not. Thank you for supporting the men and women, and their families, who serve and protect us and our freedoms.

(Envelopes will be in the pews.)

Scripture Insights

“The Lord hears the cry of the poor” reflects the message of today’s readings. The Book of Sirach expresses the fundamental Israelite understanding that God champions the oppressed, the poor, the widow, the orphan, and the lowly. Their prayer “pierces the cloud.”

From his prison cell, Paul writes to his fellow missionary Timothy as he foresees his imminent death. Looking back over his life, he expresses with conviction his trust in the Lord’s love and mercy: “I have finished the race; I have kept the faith. From now on the crown of righteousness awaits me.”

The parable in the Gospel is one of Jesus’ most concise and forceful. Luke conveys its purpose in the introduction, “Jesus addressed this parable to those who were convinced of their own righteousness and despised everyone else.” Contrasted to the Pharisee, who considered himself better than the rest of humanity, is the tax collector, one of the most despised members of society. In his encounter with God, he recognized his unworthiness by uttering a simple prayer, “O God, be merciful to me a sinner.”

Luke captures the parable’s message succinctly in Jesus’ ending, “whoever exalts himself will be humbled, and the one who humbles himself will be exalted.”
